

USF
JUNIORS
PRESENTED BY COOPER
TIRES

The logo features a stylized American flag graphic on the left, with red and white stripes and a blue field. The text 'USF' is in large, white, bold, italicized letters. Below it, 'JUNIORS' is in red, bold, italicized letters. At the bottom, 'PRESENTED BY COOPER TIRES' is written in a smaller, white, italicized font.

USF Juniors Presented by Cooper Tires debuts in 2022 as a pre-step to the highly acclaimed Road to Indy Presented by Cooper Tires driver development platform.

Its goal is to provide a professionally managed entry level series where drivers, teams and parents can focus on training and racing via shorter, more economical events.

SERIES HIGHLIGHTS:

- A prize package exceeding $310,000 including a scholarship valued at more than $220,000 to advance to the Cooper Tires USF2000 Championship in 2023
- A $500 per race Cooper Tires Pole Award and unique season-ending prizes including Mechanic of the Year, Hi-Tide Spirit Award, YACademy Move of the Year and Hard Charger Award
- Use of the popular Ligier JS chassis and HPD powerplant for 2022
- Six-event, 16-race schedule featuring double and triple-header events at premier North American road courses
- Services of the AMR Safety Team at all events
- Global live streaming of all events on the USF Juniors App, at RoadToIndy.TV and usfjuniors.com
- Immersive driver training led by Gustavo Yacaman, founder of the YACademy Academy, and Series Official Driver Coach Gabby Chaves, former Indy Lights champion/sports car talent

SERIES HIGHLIGHTS:

- Inclusion in the Cooper Tires Hashtag Program, which awards drivers and teams career-enhancing prizes throughout seven contest periods, and had a 2021 reach of 5,000+ contributors on Twitter and a reach of over 17 million users on Twitter and Instagram combined
- Andersen Promotions' Road to Indy personnel services including Competition Director Tony Cotman, Technical Director Daryl Fox, Race Director Joel Miller and Race Steward Johnny Unser
- Race/PA commentary led by Rob Howden, the Official Voice of the Road to Indy
- Professional series support services including social media, communications and marketing
- Dedicated website at USFJuniors.com featuring full driver and team bios
- Media photo website offering drivers/team free access to photography for non-commercial (i.e. advertising usage)
- Dedicated season-ending awards banquet following finale at Circuit of The Americas

2022 / 2022 / 2022 / 2022 / 2022 / 2022 / 2022 / 2022

2022 EVENT SCHEDULE

2022

April 23	Ozarks International Raceway
April 24	Ozarks International Raceway [TWO RACES]
April 28	Barber Motorsports Park
April 29	Barber Motorsports Park
June 4	Virginia International Raceway
June 5	Virginia International Raceway [TWO RACES]
July 8	Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course
July 9	Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course
July 30	Road America
July 31	Road America [TWO RACES]
September 17	Circuit of The Americas
September 18	Circuit of The Americas [TWO RACES]

Schedule subject to change.

Barber Test March 21/22

Post-Season Test – Late September/Early October

Pre-Event Test Days: Ozarks, VIR, Mid-Ohio, Road America, COTA

THE PROGRESSION STEPS

The Road to Indy was introduced in 2010 and has become the most successful driver development program in the world, providing a unique, scholarship-funded path to reach the NTT INDYCAR SERIES and the Indianapolis 500.

The goal of the Road to Indy with 24 graduates on the 2021 grids

The top rung of the Road to Indy with a scholarship to advance to the NTT INDYCAR SERIES

The second step on the Road to Indy providing a champion's scholarship valued at $614,425 to advance to Indy Lights

The first step on the Road to Indy providing a champion's scholarship valued at $406,925 to advance to Indy Pro 2000

A pre-step to the Road to Indy providing a champion's scholarship into USF2000 of $220,000+

Andersen Promotions Staff:

Dan Andersen, Owner and CEO

Michelle Kish, COO – mkish@andersenpromotions.net

Tony Cotman, Competition Director

Gustavo Yacaman, Series Manager - gyacaman@usfjuniors.com

Yesid Pamplona, Series Assistant Manager

Joel Miller, Race Director

Johnny Unser, Race Steward

Daryl Fox, Technical Director - dfox@andersenpromotions.net

Gabby Chaves, Series Driver Coach

Rob Howden, Series Development Director/Series Announcer - rob@roadtoindy.net

Tamy Valkosky, Director of Communications – pr@roadtoindy.net

Diane Swintal, Public Relations Coordinator – dswintal@roadtoindy.net

Sue Hermansson, Series Administrative Manager – sue@roadtoindy.net

Jose Mario Dias, Photographer

Road to Indy TV:

JP Manterola, Director of Broadcast and Digital Media

Travis Earnest, Senior Creative Designer

Kyran Guild, Media Production Manager

Payton Cusimano, Social Media Manager

Contacts:

Rob Howden
Series Development Director
rob@roadtoindy.net
+1 (519) 223-1152

Gustavo Yacaman
Series Manager
gyacaman@usfjuniors.com
+1 (317) 414-1124

About USF Juniors Presented by Cooper Tires: USF Juniors debuts in 2022 as a pre-step to the highly acclaimed Road to Indy Presented by Cooper Tires driver development platform, a clear-cut path to the NTT INDYCAR SERIES. Owned and operated by Andersen Promotions with sanctioning from USAC Racing, the entry level series is professionally run to Road to Indy standards providing the necessary training on and off the track to drivers as young as 14 years of age. A prize package of over $310,000 is on offer including a scholarship valued at more than $220,000 for its champion to advance to the first step of the ladder – the Cooper Tires USF2000 Championship – in 2023. For more information, visit usfjuniors.com.

About the Road to Indy Presented by Cooper Tires: Celebrating its 12th anniversary in 2022, the Road to Indy Presented by Cooper Tires is one of the most successful driver development programs in the world. Comprised of Indy Lights Presented by Cooper Tires, the Indy Pro 2000 Championship Presented by Cooper Tires and the Cooper Tires USF2000 Championship, the ladder system provides a unique, scholarship-funded path to the NTT INDYCAR SERIES and Indianapolis 500. The NTT INDYCAR SERIES grid is comprised of numerous drivers who have come through the Road to Indy. In 2021, 20 of the 33 starters in the Indianapolis 500 were graduates including seven Indy Lights champions. The mission of the Road to Indy is to develop and advance, and that includes not only drivers but teams and personnel as well. More information can be found at www.roadtoindy.info, www.indypro2000.com, www.usf2000.com, www.roadtoindy.tv and www.indycar.com.

About Andersen Promotions: Andersen Promotions and its principals have over three decades of experience in the successful promotion of race events throughout North America. Led by CEO Dan Andersen and COO Michelle Kish, the company has a staff of over 40 dedicated motorsports professionals and has achieved an outstanding reputation in the racing world, known for its integrity, presentation and operational expertise. The company oversees the Mazda Global MX-5 Cup series as well as the first two levels of the open-wheel Road to Indy Presented by Cooper Tires driver development ladder system.